Conservation Advisory

Enhancing heritage values

Hong Kong is a vibrant city. We do have many new skyscrapers or modern infrastructures, at the same time, we also have plenty of nostalgic and historical built assets scattered around us. After the formulation of conservation policies, government's recognition and public awareness towards architectural conservation has been raising as shown from the blossoms of various revitalization projects.

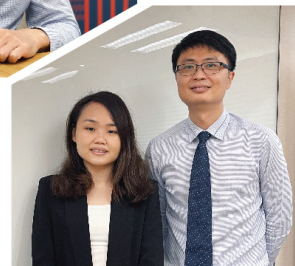

Conservation is the management of change. Traditional conservation approaches emphasized on the preservation of the physical fabrics and the architectural styles, while modern conservation put more weight on its social values to the community and people's needs. We provide comprehensive conservation advisory services, including:

1. Heritage Building Condition Survey Services
2. Conservation Management
3. Revitalization Valuation and Advisory
